Conference Review

Organized by DEMAND-LED, e-Waste World 2012 has been successfully held at Crowne Plaza Shanghai on 20-21 March, 2013 in China. It has been supported by DIGITALEUROPE, NSWAI, IGPN, GPN and Sponsor companies like DSM and several Media Partners. The event gathered high profiled delegates from worldwide leading companies, organizations and academics.

On conference day one, top elites from Tsinghua University, NSWAI, DIGITALEUROPE, Lenovo, IBM, Toyota Tsucho and VANS CHEMISTRY have shared their real-life experiences and cases with insight mostly on the OEM side into the development of e-Waste industry.

On conference day two, top elites from NOKIA, DSM, Changhong, Toshiba, Tongji University and SGS have also shared their real-life experiences and cases with insight into the marketing trends and technology innovation.

The event provided a powerful platform for sharing of information with numerous networking opportunities. Most of the attendees

Have regarded this opportunity as a valuable one and have expressed their interest in attending the 2nd Annual of e-Waste World in 2014.

Testimonials

Generally speaking, the conference was well arranged and with lots of info sharing, discussions
-----Frank Shou from Apple

I really enjoyed two days with great quality speakers & good substances. Once again I wish to thank you all and wish you all very best of luck for future congress. It was one of the small & well organized congress in my opinion.

----- Venkatesha Murthy from VANS CHEMISTRY

Panel discussion is very good to discuss real situation.

----- Kazumi Nozawa from IBM Japan

E-waste in south Asia and China collectors High effectiveness of recovery in big scale of e-scrap

----- Sören Brännström from Boliden

Covering a broad field. recommend to also invite representatives from collectors and smelters. very good presentations by high level people would be helpful to have Chinese presentations also in English

----- Volker Pawlilek from Aurubis

Excellent agenda, good lunch and dinner.

----- Lim Joopeng from Toshiba Asia Pacific

more governmental participants

----- Sivadasan Panikker from Ericsson

It was a privilege and great pleasure to have attended the Ewaste World 2013 conference this week. Thank you for inviting me and giving me the opportunity to share my thoughts on an important subject. The conference itself was most useful and productive, and reflected new approaches and innovative thinking from leading global experts which are needed to achieve progress in Ewaste management policies.

-----David Scuderi from Samsung Electronics Europe representing the DIGITALEUROPE WEEE

I found meeting very informative and gained a good indication particularly from the OEMs of their current and future strategies on End of life take back.

-----Louis Ichikowitz from The MinMet Group Ltd.

More exhibitors and participants, from NGOs policy makers and waste managers including recyclers.

----- Amiya kumar Sahu from NSWAI

Next time want to know how to recycle effectively, logistics problem

-----Jane Fang from Tes-amm
